

Collegiate Information and Visitor Services Association

Resolution

Council for the Advancement of Standards
in Higher Education

The logo for the Council for the Advancement of Standards (CAS) in Higher Education, featuring the letters 'CAS' in a stylized white font on a blue background.A logo celebrating 30 years, with the number '30' in a large, bold, gold font and the word 'years' in a smaller, gold font to its right.

WHEREAS, the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education (CAS) has developed forty standards to advance quality programs and services for college students; and

WHEREAS, the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education (CAS) has promoted accountability and assessment in student affairs, student services, and student development programs since its inception in 1979; and

WHEREAS, the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education (CAS) has advanced the intentional design and management of programs and services to meet designated student learning and developmental outcomes, and

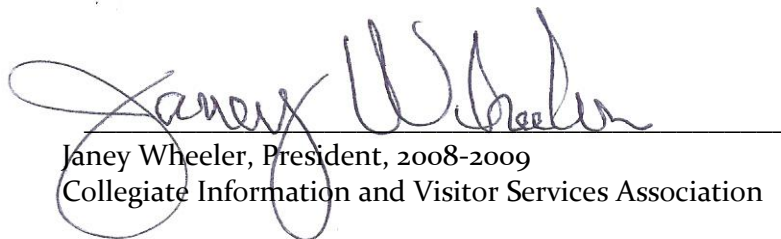

WHEREAS, the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education (CAS) has employed a collaborative consensus decision-making process among thirty-six member associations; and

WHEREAS, the Collegiate Information and Visitor Services Association became a member association of Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education (CAS) in 1998; and

WHEREAS, in 2000 CAS developed and published Campus Information and Visitor Services Standards and Guidelines and is promulgating the use of these standards by programs and practitioners in the campus information and visitor services field.

THEREFORE, be it resolved that on this Thirtieth Anniversary of CAS, the Collegiate Information and Visitor Services Association (CIVSA) extends its congratulations to CAS and to each CAS member association.

Be it further resolved that Collegiate Information and Visitor Services Association (CIVSA) extends its gratitude to Matt Weismantel (Rutgers University), who has served as CIVSA Director to the Board of the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education since 1998, along with Denise Wellman (University of South Carolina) and Betty Spengler (University of Maryland) who have served as Alternate Directors.

The logo for the Collegiate Information and Visitor Services Association (CIVSA), featuring the letters 'CIVSA' in a blue, serif font with a stylized blue figure above the 'i'.A handwritten signature in blue ink, reading 'Janey Wheeler', written over a horizontal line. Below the signature is the printed name and title: 'Janey Wheeler, President, 2008-2009, Collegiate Information and Visitor Services Association'.